Roku TV - Channel Scan Instructions

Attention Residents of Kentucky

It has come to Hofstra University's attention that several entities have been directing Kentucky residents to this web page for channel scan instructions. While we welcome you to use our instructions to help you run a channel scan on your televisions, please do not call Hofstra for technical support. If our instructions do not help you complete a channel scan, please contact the manufacturer of your television(s) for assistance. No support will be provided to individuals not associated with Hofstra University.

Note:

The steps to perform a channel scan may be different depending on your exact TV model. You may need to refer to the User's Guide or contact the manufacturer of your TV for specific instructions.

1. If you haven't already, connect your coaxial cable to the wall and into your TV's Ant/Cable In input.

2. On the Home screen, select the Antenna TV tile.

3. Select Start finding channels.

4. If asked, select Eastern for your time zone.
5. Select No, channels 3 & 4 are not needed.

6. Your TV will now scan for antenna TV channels. Select Skip this step.

7. Your TV will now scan for cable TV channels. Wait for this process to complete.

8. You should now be able to view all HofstraVision channels.
