Blackboard

Why don’t I see my course in Blackboard?

Reasons why you may not be able to see your course in Blackboard.

Why do I get an error when I click on the Blackboard button?

To get into Blackboard you must be registered for at least one course for more than 24 hours. If it has been less than 24 hours since you have registered for courses, please try again after that time and you should be able to access the service. If you continue to have trouble after

Cable TV (Residence Halls Cable Network)

I am not getting some/any TV channels on my TV. Can you help?

To watch TV on campus, your TV must have a built-in QAM tuner. Please check the manual for your TV and see if it has a QAM/Clear QAM tuner. If you only see ATSC/NTSC listed you will need to purchase a different TV. If your TV does have a QAM tuner be sure to run a channel scan so that your TV can program itself with Hofstra’s channel line-up. Channel scan instructions for some TV brands can be found at https://wiki.edtech.hofstra.edu/x/NwM8AQ. For the best instructions please refer to your TV’s manual.

Final Grades

Why don’t I see my final grade?

There are several ways to view your final grades. Occasionally a bug may result in you not being able to see your grades through a specific method so be sure to try all of the different ways. If you try all of the different ways and you still don’t see your grade your professor has most likely not posted it. Contact your professor first and double-check they actually posted the grade. If they have, please contact the Student Tech Support Center for additional assistance.
When will my final grade be posted?

Many professors teach multiple classes with a large number of students so please be patient while they grade your work and post your final grade. We recommend you reach out to your professor if you have not received your final grade by the following Friday after the week your course ended. So if your course ended on Tuesday of this week, we recommend you give your professor until Friday of next week before checking in with them.

Gmail (Pride E-mail)

How do I access my Hofstra email on my computer or a mobile device?

Instructions on accessing your Pride account through the Portal, iOS and Android devices

Internet Access

How do I connect my computer or mobile device to eduroam?

Instructions for connecting devices to eduroam.

How do I connect a video game console or miscellaneous entertainment device to the Hofstra’s wireless network?

These devices need to be connected to the Hofstra Guest network. To connect to that network you must first register your device using a computer connected to eduroam.

Instructions for registering video game consoles and entertainment devices.

I tried to register a device at mydevices.hofstra.edu but got the error "Device ID already exists." How do I fix this?

This error happens if you connect a device to the network before you register it. Please disconnect the device and email StudentEmployement@ Hofstra.edu with the MAC/Physical address so that we can resolve the issue for you. Once resolved we will reply and ask you to register the device again. Register it and, after it is registered, you can connect it to the network.

How do I request an Ethernet port in my residence hall room to be activated?

Ethernet Port Activation Page.

How do I set up my personal wireless router?

Personal wireless routers are not allowed in the residence halls as they can interfere with Hofstra University provided wireless service. Students found using personal wireless routers will have their Ethernet ports deactivated and may face disciplinary actions for violating Hofstra’s Acceptable Use Guidelines.

How do I set up my personal wireless printer?

As the majority of personal wireless printers do not support the WPA2 Enterprise encryption required to connect to eduroam they will not work on campus. You will need to connect your printer to your computer using a USB printer cable.

Does Hofstra provide Ethernet or coaxial cables?

Hofstra provides 1 FREE 25 foot Ethernet cable to each student for their time here at Hofstra. You can pick one up from the Tech Support Center located in Hammer Lab (125B Axinn Library). We do not provide coaxial (TV) cables. Those can be purchased from most stores that sell TVs (Target, Walmart, BestBuy, Amazon.com, etc.).

How do I connect a Chromecast to the wireless network?
Chromecast devices do not work on Hofstra’s network due to the increased level of security found on the network. If you would like to watch streaming media services like Netflix and Hulu we recommend using either a Roku, Amazon FireTV or Apple TV which work on the Hofstra Guest wireless network.

How do I connect a Google Home to the wireless network?

Google Home devices do not work on Hofstra’s network due to the increased level of security found on the network. If you would like a smart assistant that can play music and answer questions we recommend using an Amazon Echo which does work on the Hofstra Guest wireless network.

PridePrint

How do I get the PridePrint software?

- iOS (iPhone, iPad, iPod Touch): No special software is required to print from iOS devices. When you go to print a document just select the PridePrint or PridePrint Color printer to print.
- Macs: If you are running Sierra (10.12.x) or above please bring your laptop to the Student Tech Support Center to have the software installed. If you are running Yosemite (10.10.x) or El Capitan (10.11.x) you can download the software from the My Apps button of the Hofstra Portal. If you are running Mavericks (10.9.x) or lower PridePrint is not compatible with your computer.
- Windows: The PridePrint client can be downloaded from the My Apps button of the Hofstra Portal. PridePrint can be installed on Windows versions 7-10.

Instructions on identifying your operating system version.

What is my Hofstra username and password for PridePrint?

PridePrint uses the same username and password you use for the Hofstra Portal.

When I try to print from my Mac it says Hold for Authentication. How do I fix this?

Fixing the Mac Hold for Authentication issue.

When I try to print I get a message that says Disallowed Paper Size. How do I fix this?

PridePrint printers can only print on US Letter (8 1/2 x 11 inches) paper. If the program you are trying to print from has different paper settings change your paper size to US Letter. This is commonly seen on computers purchased outside of the US as most other countries use A4 (about 8 1/4 x 11 3/4 inches) paper.
